Extraordinary Art from Everyday Objects

Through May 27

Artists Tamiko Kawata, Eung Ho Park and Sally Shore use everyday objects as their primary media. Safety pins are connected by Kawata to make dazzling configurations. Bottle caps and spoons are grouped by Park to yield compelling formations. Shore weaves ribbons to create spatial complexity. Through their artistic ingenuity the ordinary is transformed, becoming "Extraordinary" — the title of the current exhibit at DM Contemporary, Mill Neck. Open by appointment only. Visit www.dmcontemporary.com or call 516-922-3552 for information and directions.
